DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election with traverse of Group I in the reply filed on 1/25/05 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that examination of all the claims could be done without serious burden. This is not found persuasive because search and examination of the non-elected claims includes many classes and subclasses not required of just the elected claims.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. Claims 3, 4, 15 and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. There is no antecedent basis for the term "the core" in claims 3 and 15. It appears that the "supporting means" and "the core" may refer to the same part of the panel. In any event, it is not clear whether the supporting means and the core are the same part or different parts of the panel.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Barry et al 5,273,801. See Figure 8, column 2, line 47 through column 3, line 13 and column 4, lines 22-33.

5. Claims 1 and 3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by Olson et al US 2004/0074208. See Figure 6 and paragraphs [0040] to [0042].

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 2, 4, 7-10 and 13-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Olson et al. The reference discloses the invention substantially as claimed, namely a vacuum insulation panel comprising a core with an aperture or a semicircular indentation in the edge of a core, and an envelope surrounding the core including the aperture or indentation; see Figure 6 and paragraphs [0040] to [0042]. However, the reference does not disclose an envelope comprising two sheets sealed together, but rather a single sheet folded to form the envelope. This envelope structure is an improvement over the prior art two-sheet envelopes disclosed as well known in the art; see [0003]-[0004] of the reference. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to use the two sheet envelope structure disclosed as well known in the art in the reference as an envelope to cover the core with an aperture or indentation if the improvements provided by the single sheet envelope were not desired or considered necessary for a particular end use. It would also have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to vary the shape of the core (i.e. the panel) to any shape, such as one having a beveled edge or indentation, in view of the suggestion in the reference at [0028] to vary the shape depending on the particular application or end use.
